Remember how you learned to drive or cook? You practiced while someone coached you, reminding you what to do until you were able to coach yourself and then, eventually, do it automatically. Children learn values much the same way. They practice different kinds of behavior, while, you, as coach, help focus their attention on what is important and on _____ important skills. You support them with your praise, encouragement and gentle reminders. If you don't coach your child, she will find her coaches elsewhere and be guided by the values of the media, her peers and anyone else who captures her interest. So, step up to the plate, don't be afraid and help your child learn how to be a good person, step by step.

1. 다음 빈칸에 들어갈 말로 가장 적절한 것은?

- ① memorizing
- ② refining
- ③ ignoring
- ④ replacing
- ⑤ evaluating

2. 밑글의 제목으로 가장 적절한 것은?

- ① Why Children Learn Better from Peers Than from Parents
- ② The Role of Media in Shaping Children's Behavior
- ③ How Automatic Skills Develop Through Repetition
- ④ Coach Your Child: Be the Guide They Need to Grow Well
- ⑤ Encouraging Independence: When to Stop Coaching Your Child

3. [서술형] 다음 문장을 우리말로 자연스럽게 해석하시오.

If you don't coach your child, she will find her coaches elsewhere and be guided by the values of the media, her peers and anyone else who captures her interest.

⇒ _____

4. 밑글의 내용을 가장 잘 요약한 것은?

- ① Children should be left alone so that they can discover their own values naturally.
- ② Parents should coach children in values before outside influences become their guides.
- ③ Media and peers are more effective than parents at teaching social behavior.
- ④ Children learn values only after they have mastered practical skills like driving or cooking.
- ⑤ Praise should be avoided because it prevents children from becoming independent.

A classical ideal of truth and knowledge is the concept of a market for ideas: as thinking individuals, we encounter competing ideas, we evaluate them for their best (A) fit / fitting to reality, and then let the best and brightest facts (B) form / to form the basis of our beliefs. That would be the scientist's way, in theory at least. But in practice, most of the time we are in a market for _____. We shop for words not because they contain ideas, but because they contain stories about ideas. Often we are not seeking statements as facts to help us figure out what we should believe. Usually we already know what we believe. What we seek are statements to justify those beliefs — the lawyer's way. Language might be good for this function but we can use it to do (C) good / better. By treating language with greater respect, we can achieve more than simple self-defense.

1. 다음 빈칸에 들어갈 말로 가장 적절한 것은? [3점]

- ① inspirations
- ② innovations
- ③ rationalizations
- ④ contradictions
- ⑤ observations

2. (A), (B), (C)의 각 네모 안에서 어법에 맞는 표현으로 가장 적절한 것은?

	(A)	(B)	(C)
①	fitting	form	better
②	fit	form	better
③	fit	to form	better
④	fitting	to form	good
⑤	fit	form	good

3. [서술형] 다음 문장을 우리말로 해석하시오.

By treating language with greater respect, we can achieve more than simple self-defense.

⇒ _____

4. 밑글의 제목으로 가장 적절한 것은?

- ① Why Scientific Facts Always Win in Public Debate
- ② Language as a Weapon for Defending What We Already Believe
- ③ The Marketplace Where Every Idea Is Judged Fairly
- ④ How Stories Prevent People from Forming Any Beliefs
- ⑤ The Decline of Language in Modern Scientific Research

Suppose you have been working on the solution to a challenging technological problem for many years. Let's also suppose that you have been paying attention to whatever else you have encountered that might be related to the problem. In that case, chances are that creative solutions to the problem could suddenly (A) pop up / popping up in your mind when you are relaxed. Such "eureka moments" (when great insights lead to discovery or invention) often take place at (B) unexpected / expectedly times. To enhance spontaneous creativity, therefore, one must pay attention to the things that could potentially lead to valuable outcomes. This does not mean that you must narrow down your interest to one specific topic. On the contrary, _____ is the key to creativity. If your experience is limited to a narrow range of topics, then the scope of your imagination will (C) likewise / likely be narrow, which would be harmful to creativity.

* spontaneous: 자연 발생적인

1. 다음 빈칸에 들어갈 말로 가장 적절한 것은?

- ① deep focus on a single subject
- ② consistent daily practice
- ③ logical and systematic thinking
- ④ a wide range of experiences
- ⑤ collaboration with creative partners

2. (A), (B), (C)의 각 네모 안에서 어법에 맞는 표현으로 가장 적절한 것은?

	(A)	(B)	(C)
①	pop up	unexpected	likewise
②	pop up	unexpected	likely
③	pop up	expectedly	likewise
④	popping up	unexpected	likewise
⑤	popping up	expectedly	likely

3. [서술형] 다음 문장을 우리말로 해석하시오.

If your experience is limited to a narrow range of topics, then the scope of your imagination will likewise be narrow, which would be harmful to creativity.

⇒ _____

4. 밑줄의 내용과 일치하지 않는 것은?

- ① Creative ideas may arise when one is relaxed rather than actively forcing them.
- ② Paying attention to seemingly related experiences can support later insight.
- ③ Eureka moments can occur at times that are not deliberately planned.
- ④ Creativity is best promoted by limiting one's interest to one narrow topic.
- ⑤ A narrow range of experiences can restrict the scope of imagination.

Shame is about who we are, and guilt is about our behaviors. We feel guilty when we hold up something we've done or failed to do against the kind of person we want to be. It's an uncomfortable feeling, but one that's helpful. When we apologize for something we've done, make amends* to others, or change a behavior that we don't feel good about, guilt is most often the motivator. Guilt is just as powerful as shame, but its effect is often positive while shame often is _____. When we see people apologize, make amends, or replace negative behaviors with more positive ones, guilt is often the motivator, not shame. In fact, in my research, I found that shame corrodes the part of us that believes we can change and do better.

* amends: 보상, 배상  corrode: 좀먹다, 약화시키다

1. 다음 빈칸에 들어갈 말로 가장 적절한 것은?

- ① motivating
- ② constructive
- ③ corrosive
- ④ unconscious
- ⑤ inevitable

2. 윗글의 제목으로 가장 적절한 것은?

- ① Shame: The Stronger Motivator for Changing Behavior
- ② How Guilt and Shame Work Together to Build Character
- ③ Guilt Drives Positive Change; Shame Tears Us Down
- ④ The Role of Apology in Overcoming Guilt and Shame
- ⑤ Why We Should Embrace Both Guilt and Shame Equally

3. 다음은 윗글을 요약한 것이다. 빈칸 (A), (B)에 들어갈 말로 가장 적절한 것은?

Unlike shame, which (A) _____ our belief in self-improvement, guilt tends to (B) _____ positive behavioral change by pushing us to apologize and make amends.

- | | (A) | (B) |
|---|------------|-----------|
| ① | reinforces | suppress |
| ② | reinforces | encourage |
| ③ | undermines | drive |
| ④ | undermines | prevent |
| ⑤ | challenges | delay |

4. [서술형] 다음 문장을 우리말로 해석하시오.

In fact, in my research, I found that shame corrodes the part of us that believes we can change and do better.

Let's look at what is ①occurring in your brain when scrolling on social media, a quick dopamine activity. You open your social media apps and immediately you notice you feel really good, your dopamine levels increase ②incredibly fast and pleasure is experienced in your brain. The challenge this creates is as with everything in our universe: as the laws of physics explain, 'what goes up, must come down'. Your brain and body are always ③avoiding something called 'homeostasis', which simply means balance. With this in mind, when dopamine levels increase incredibly fast when scrolling social media, the brain then thinks, 'Wow, how are my dopamine levels so high?' In order to achieve _____, or balance, the dopamine then has to quickly drop an equal amount below your ④baseline level in order to ⑤rebalance, making you feel even worse than before you started scrolling.

1. 다음 빈칸에 들어갈 말로 가장 적절한 것은?

- ① stimulation
- ② equilibrium
- ③ acceleration
- ④ gratification
- ⑤ withdrawal

2. 밑줄 친 ①~⑤ 중에서 문맥상 낱말의 쓰임이 적절하지 않은 것은?

- ① ① ② ② ③ ③ ④ ④ ⑤ ⑤

3. [서술형] 다음 문장을 우리말로 해석하시오.

the dopamine then has to quickly drop an equal amount below your baseline level in order to rebalance, making you feel even worse than before you started scrolling.

⇒ _____

4. 윗글의 제목으로 가장 적절한 것은?

- ① Social Media as the Safest Source of Lasting Pleasure
- ② Why Dopamine Keeps Rising the Longer You Scroll
- ③ The Physics of Social Networks and Online Communication
- ④ Homeostasis: The Brain's Refusal to Feel Pleasure
- ⑤ The Quick Dopamine High and the Cost of Rebalancing

[지문 25] 다음 표와 글을 읽고 물음에 답하시오.The Extent of People's Trust in Self-Driving Cars, 2023

	A great deal	A lot	A little	Not at all
U.K.	4%	10%	34%	52%
U.S.	6%	13%	30%	51%
China	8%	47%	35%	10%
India	22%	29%	35%	14%

Note: Over 1,000 respondents surveyed per selected country

The graph above shows the extent of people's trust in self-driving cars based on a survey in 2023. ① All countries except India had less than 10% of people who trusted self-driving cars a great deal. ② More than half of the people in the U.K. and the U.S. did not trust self-driving cars at all. ③ China was the only country where the percentage of people who trusted self-driving cars a lot was over 40%. ④ China and India had the same percentage of people who trusted self-driving cars a little. ⑤ In India, the percentage of people who did not trust self-driving cars at all was the lowest among the four countries.

1. 다음 표의 내용과 일치하지 않는 것은?

- ① Among the four countries, only India had 20% or more respondents with the highest level of trust.
- ② In the U.K. and the U.S., more than half of respondents placed in the lowest trust category.
- ③ China was the sole country where more than 40% of respondents chose “a lot” of trust.
- ④ All four countries showed the same percentage in the “a little” trust category.
- ⑤ China recorded the lowest share of respondents who expressed no trust in self-driving cars at all.

2. [서술형] 표를 참고하여 다음 물음에 답하시오.

(1) China에서 자율주행차를 “A lot” 또는 “A great deal” 신뢰한다고 응답한 비율의 합을 쓰시오.

⇒ _____

(2) 네 나라 중 “A great deal” 과 “A lot” 을 합산한 신뢰 비율이 가장 높은 나라를 쓰시오.

⇒ _____

3. “A great deal”과 “A lot”을 합산했을 때, 두 번째로 높은 신뢰 비율을 보인 나라는?

- ① U.K.
- ② U.S.
- ③ China
- ④ India
- ⑤ China and India

4. [서술형] U.K.에서 “Not at all” 응답 비율은 “A great deal” 응답 비율보다 몇 퍼센트포인트 높은지 쓰시오.

⇒ _____

A viewfinder is a piece of card with a hole cut through it in the middle, which can be used to isolate a part of a picture or object. It allows us to concentrate on one small part or area without being _____ by the ①entirety of what can be seen. It is a useful tool that can help children ②refine or organise their observation and drawing. It can ③support hesitant children by giving a boundary to what they are looking at and it can support children who find it hard to keep track of where and what they are looking at, by bringing them back to the same area each time they look and look back. When you are making viewfinders for use with the children you are supporting, take into consideration the ④dimensions of the card. You need enough card around the hole to ⑤filter out the rest of the visual information from the child's field of vision, but it should not be too big and unwieldy.

* unwieldy: 다루기 힘든

1. 밑줄 친 ①~⑤ 중에서 문맥상 낱말의 쓰임이 적절하지 않은 것은?

Our world is not just interconnected, but ever-changing, even if we can't sense it. While you're reading this, you're changing. You're aging (a minute amount, thankfully), but the neural* networks in your brain are also _____ changing as you perceive each word. Crucially, even when we're seemingly not doing anything of note, events are taking place outside your immediate surroundings that will change your life in the future, though you won't realize it yet. Heraclitus, the ancient Greek philosopher, rightly pointed out, "No man ever steps in the same river twice. For it's not the same river and he's not the same man." To that, Cratylus, a student of Heraclitus, added that we are not mere passive observers. When you step in a river, you change it. Nothing is static. Even microscopic changes add up over time.

* neural: 신경(계)의  imperceptibly: 감지할 수 없게  static: 정적(靜的)인

1. 다음 빈칸에 들어갈 말로 가장 적절한 것은?

- ① rapidly
- ② intentionally
- ③ subtly
- ④ visibly
- ⑤ permanently

2. 밑글의 주제로 가장 적절한 것은?

- ① the philosophical debate between Heraclitus and Cratylus on identity
- ② how neural networks process language and enable perception
- ③ the importance of mindfulness in noticing life's changes
- ④ the continuous and often unnoticed nature of change in our world
- ⑤ ways in which modern science confirms ancient Greek philosophy

3. [서술형] 다음 문장을 우리말로 해석하시오.

Crucially, even when we're seemingly not doing anything of note, events are taking place outside your immediate surroundings that will change your life in the future, though you won't realize it yet.

4. Heraclitus의 강물 비유가 밑글에서 의미하는 바로 가장 적절한 것은?

- ① Human identity remains fixed even when surroundings change.
- ② Only large historical events are capable of changing our lives.
- ③ Both the world and the person experiencing it are continuously changing.
- ④ Natural environments change, but human minds are mostly static.
- ⑤ Change matters only when we consciously notice it happening.

Do you always study in the same spot? Don't. If you study in different places, that helps create variety, and that rich experience can _____ what you are learning. When several college students told us they did school work in different places rather than in some favorite nook, that habit reflected the research on learning. Numerous experiments have found that if learners simply study in at least two different places, they are more likely to recall the material. In one of the first such trials, two different groups studied a list of words. Some students returned to the same room twice while their counterparts spent the same amount of time divided between two locations. When asked to recall as many words on the list as possible, those who had moved around did far better. Variety creates rich association, even when those connections form in the background, totally outside of what we are consciously thinking.

* nook: 구석진 곳  counterpart: 상대

1. 다음 빈칸에 들어갈 말로 가장 적절한 것은?

- ① replace
- ② complicate
- ③ contradict
- ④ consolidate
- ⑤ accelerate

2. 밑글의 제목으로 가장 적절한 것은?

- ① Why Comfortable Study Environments Improve Concentration
- ② Study in Multiple Places to Remember More
- ③ The Science Behind Why Students Forget What They Learn
- ④ How Group Study Outperforms Solo Learning
- ⑤ Creating a Dedicated Study Space for Better Habits

3. [서술형] 다음 문장을 우리말로 해석하시오. (2점)

Variety creates rich association, even when those connections form in the background, totally outside of what we are consciously thinking.

⇒ _____

4. 밑글의 내용과 일치하지 않는 것은?

- ① Studying in different places can create richer learning experiences.
- ② Students who used two locations recalled more words than those who stayed in one room.
- ③ The benefit of varied places may arise outside conscious thought.
- ④ The passage recommends always returning to one favorite study nook.
- ⑤ Variety can help form associations that strengthen learning.

Talking about what something smells like is the most basic way of talking about our olfactory* experience, and even this most basic way of talking about smells is ① challenging. There are no words in the English language to describe smells in the same way in which “blue” or “green” describe colors. Instead, to talk about how something smells, we talk about _____. Things smell “flowery,” “fruity,” or “fishy.” Furthermore, even the most ③ unfamiliar odors are difficult to ② identify when they are not experienced in their usual context. In one experiment the majority of participants was ④ unable to name very common odors like beer, urine, roses, or motor oil. Obviously, even those who couldn’t name any of these odors would drink the beer but not the urine or the motor oil. This is how evolution has ⑤ shaped our brain: We respond to odors correctly in many different ways, but we are not well-equipped to talk about them.

* olfactory: 후각의  urine: 소변

A particularly powerful way in which human beings adapt and adjust to their circumstances is by changing behaviors in light of the consequences that they yield. For instance, a child who gets praised by her teacher for doing an exercise correctly is likely to continue doing the exercise in that way. A dancer who feels that a particular conditioning exercise is not giving any results is likely to give that exercise up in favor of another one that seems more promising. In general, we tend to do things that bring us some kind of _____ or act in ways that help us avoid some kind of problem, discomfort, or disadvantage. We also tend to do fewer things (or stop doing things) that lead to problems, discomfort, or disadvantages, and we tend to avoid acting in ways that do not bring any benefit or reward.

1. 다음 빈칸에 들어갈 말로 가장 적절한 것은? [3점]

- ① difficulty
- ② uncertainty
- ③ advantage
- ④ obligation
- ⑤ distraction

2. 위글의 주제로 가장 적절한 것은?

- ① how the consequences of behavior shape what people choose to do
- ② why children need external praise to develop good habits
- ③ the difference between motivation and discipline in human behavior
- ④ how discomfort can sometimes lead to greater personal achievement
- ⑤ the role of repetition in building effective exercise routines

3. [서술형] 다음 문장을 우리말로 해석하시오.

A dancer who feels that a particular conditioning exercise is not giving any results is likely to give that exercise up in favor of another one that seems more promising.

⇒ _____

4. 위글의 내용과 일치하지 않는 것은?

- ① People often continue behaviors that produce some kind of benefit.
- ② A child praised for doing an exercise correctly is likely to repeat that way.
- ③ A dancer may abandon an exercise that seems to produce no result.
- ④ People tend to act in ways that bring no reward and create discomfort.
- ⑤ Consequences can influence how humans adapt their behavior.

It is evident through various case studies that adopting digital minimalism can lead to improved _____.

(①) For instance, a study conducted by researchers at Stanford University found that participants who limited their use of social media and digital devices reported lower levels of stress, anxiety, and depression.

(②) By reducing the constant stream of information and notifications, individuals were able to focus more on meaningful interactions and activities that promoted well-being. (③) Additionally, participants reported relying on social media to get information for their purchasing decisions. (④) In another case, a corporate professional struggling with burnout and insomnia implemented digital minimalism techniques, such as setting boundaries for phone usage and practicing mindfulness. (⑤) As a result, he experienced improved sleep quality, reduced stress levels, and a newfound sense of calm and clarity.

* insomnia: 불면증

1. 다음 글에서 전체 흐름과 관계 없는 문장은?

- ① ② ③ ④ ⑤

2. 다음 빈칸에 들어갈 말로 가장 적절한 것은?

- ① productivity at work
② digital literacy skills

During the Ice Age, not only was the planet much colder, with ice sheets covering much of what we call the northern hemisphere today, but, crucially, it was much drier.

(A) In this type of climate, farming isn't an option: it's too risky to depend on any one piece of land to produce the energy you need. As the temperature rose and the ice caps melted, we experienced a sudden explosion of life.

(B) In Ireland, we often associate the cold with the wet but if it is really cold, there is far less evaporation*, fewer clouds, and less rain. Our world in the Ice Age was cold and dry, meaning it was difficult for plants to grow.

(C) The world got warmer and wetter, and people started to live around places where they could make food grow most intensively. This didn't happen overnight; it probably took thousands of years, with hunter-gatherers foraging and hunting, while doing a little side hustle in farming.

* evaporation: 증발  forage: 채집하다  side hustle: 부업

- ⑤ (C) – (B) – (A)

2. (B) 단락의 논리 전개로 가장 적절한 것은?

- ① Very low temperatures weaken the movement of moisture into the air, reducing cloud formation and rainfall.
- ② Low temperatures make Ireland unusually wet, so farming becomes possible despite poor soil.
- ③ A lack of clouds raises temperatures, causing ice sheets to melt and rainfall to increase.
- ④ Less rain is presented as the result of farming, not as a condition that limits plant growth.
- ⑤ Cold weather is described as useful because it keeps plants from using too much energy.

The big difference between working and long-term memory is that we are explicitly aware of the information in working memory, but we are not able to directly access the information in our long-term memory.

(A)

But remember it has a limit of seven items or chunks. Each actor would be an item. Try and hold all the actors you know in your _____. You might try to visualize a large group of them. But you still would only be aware of a few actors at any one time.

(B)

However, if I asked you to list all the actors, you would use your working memory to retrieve* them one by one and reel them off. Your working memory can access your long-term memory and bring those memories to awareness.

(C)

We access long-term memory by bringing the information into working memory. For example, right now you are not aware of all the actors you have ever seen. They are stored in your long-term memory outside your consciousness.

* retrieve: 생각해 내다  reel off: 술술 말하다

주어진 문장: This suggests that the act of gesturing itself, not just following instructions to gesture, plays a role in strengthening memory.

If you gesture while describing an event, do you think you' ll be able to recall that event better than if you don' t gesture? (①) We had adults watch videos of toy objects, animals, and people performing various, sometimes odd, actions: a chicken sliding to a policeman, a jogger bending down to touch his toes, a fence swinging shut on its own. (②) We then tested the adults' memories of these events immediately after the descriptions and three weeks later. (③) To see if we' d get the same effects if people gestured on their own, we did the study again, but this time we gave the adults no instructions about gesture. (④) We found the same patterns: people remembered items on which they had gestured _____ better than items on which they had not gestured. (⑤) Producing gesture along with speech makes the information encoded in that speech memorable.

* encode: 부호화하다

4. 밑줄의 내용과 일치하지 않는 것은?

- ① Adults in the study watched videos of various unusual actions.
 ② Memory was tested both immediately and several weeks later.
 ③ A second study examined people who gestured without explicit instruction.
 ④ The study found no memory difference between gestured and non-gestured items.
 ⑤ Producing gestures with speech can make spoken information more memorable.

In fact, a single mature tree can absorb more than 20 kilograms of CO₂ per year, making forests one of the most powerful tools against climate change.

Approximately 15–20% of global greenhouse gas emissions are caused by degradation* and deforestation. Trees play a huge role in the carbon cycle. (①) They convert the CO₂ in the air to oxygen through the process of photosynthesis, and consequently, they are viewed as a natural regulator of carbon dioxide. (②) The existence of a larger amount of trees will no doubt lead to the reduced presence of carbon dioxide in the atmosphere and the increased existence of oxygen. (③) And with half of the Earth’s forests gone, the amount of carbon dioxide is progressively rising. (④) With more carbon dioxide in the atmosphere, more of the sun’s radiation is being reflected back to Earth instead of being released into space, and this is causing the planet’s average temperature to rise. (⑤) Accordingly, deforestation is a major issue when it comes to global warming.

* degradation: (환경) 악화  photosynthesis: 광합성  radiation: 복사 (에너지)

We go out in the world every day and make decisions about what is safe or not and what is appropriate or not. It is what psychologist Joseph LeDoux has suggested is an unconscious “danger detector” that determines whether or not something or someone is safe before we can even begin to consciously make a determination. When the object, animal, or person is assessed to be dangerous, a fear response, which has been called “fight or flight,” occurs. On a conscious level we may correct a mistake in this “danger detector” when we notice it, but often, of course, we simply begin to _____ the danger detector’s initial response. We are generally convinced that our decisions are “rational,” but in reality, most human decisions are made emotionally, and then we collect or generate the facts to justify these decisions. When we see something or someone who “feels” dangerous, we have already launched into action internally before we have even started “thinking.”

Our brains make (A) _____ judgments about danger before rational thought kicks in, and we then tend to (B) _____ those judgments with consciously generated reasoning.

Commercial businesses aim for predictability and certainty, especially when it comes to product quality. But predictability and certainty are not always (a) valued in the sporting world, especially when it comes to the delivery of professional sport competitions. From a spectator's perspective the sport experience is better experienced when unpredictable. Sport events actually _____ that unpredictability in order to (b) attract people to the game. When the results of games cannot be predicted, attendances at sporting contests are likely to be higher, as are the profits of leagues. However, the (c) presence of predictability also leads to significant variability in the quality of sporting performances. Many factors can contribute to the variability of the sport product, including the weather, player injuries, the venue, the quality of the opponents, the closeness of the scores and even the size of the crowd. A cricket match can be exhilarating, boring or even frustrating, but fans still have to pay the same price. Sport marketers may attempt to (d) overcome this by 'improving' the product in systematic ways, such as including a star player, offering premium seating or providing other forms of entertainment and inviting facilities. The uncertain nature of sport contests is just one element of a total experience, although it is an important element for (e) financial success.

(A) Emma was a talented vocalist but struggled to gain recognition. Lisa, who went to the same high school with her, had quickly become famous with powerful performances. Emma felt jealous watching Lisa's success. One day, Emma decided to enter a major vocal competition in the capital city. (a) She spent months preparing her masterpiece of a performance, hoping this would finally be her opportunity to shine.

(B) Moments later, Lisa came over to congratulate Emma with a warm smile. She said, "Your hard work and dedication really paid off. I'm so happy for you." (b) She didn't seem bothered by the results. "I'm proud that your singing brings joy to people," said Lisa. Emma felt grateful for Lisa's kindness. Lisa added, "I've always been moved by your effort and have been supporting (c) you all along."

(C) When the competition day arrived, Emma felt nervous. Walking into the concert hall, Emma saw a large audience cheering for Lisa. She couldn't help but compare herself to Lisa. On her turn, Emma performed with all her heart, pouring (d) her months of preparation into every note. The judges then evaluated each vocalist's performance carefully. Finally, the results were announced. To her surprise, Emma got first place, not Lisa.

(D) These words made Emma feel embarrassed at her jealousy. At the same time, (e) she got inspired to find a better path forward. They hugged warmly, their bond strengthened. From that day on, they supported each other and even sang on the same stage together. Emma became more confident and, finally, got a chance to have her solo concert.
